

We, The member congregations of the Unitarian Universalist Association of Congregation covenant to affirm and promote:

Sunday, June 5

- The inherent worth and dignity of every person
- Justice, equity, and compassion in human relations
- Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregation
- A free and responsible search for truth and meaning
- The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process in our congregation and in society at large
- The goal of a world community with peace, liberty and justice for all
- Respect for the interdependent web of all existence, of which we are a part.

“Fiction-Proofing Your Own Mind”

Rev. Chris Schriener

On May 29, in “A Gospel of Ignorance,” Chris suggested that admitting ignorance can be positive and empowering.

Today, he will explore this theme further, focusing on why people often think they know much more than they do.

Although investigators generate enormous amounts of data, it sometimes seems as if confusion is expanding more rapidly than understanding. People can “prove” that ESP is or is not real; that we do or do not survive death, and that all sorts of herbs and medicines help us or harm us.

How can we sort it all out and develop a worldview that works?
