FULL CYCLE
A Family's Ride Across Spain

Martha Kendal

“If you want to really get to know your husband and teenagers, try crossing a foreign country with them – on bicycles.” So says Martha Kendall, and she should know.

She, her husband Joe Weed, their 17-year-old son and 16-year-old daughter braved blood, sweat and bicycle grease to fulfill Joe's dream to traverse the ancient Camino de Santiago. It stretches 600 miles from Roncesvalles, a town on the French border, to Santiago, a city in the northwestern corner of Spain.

During her program, Martha Kendall will share humorous as well as hair-raising stories about their adventures as they pedaled over mountain peaks, plateaus, plains, and plazas.

She will also play fiddle and tin whistle tunes she learned on the ride.

This is an intergenerational service that is sure to delight both adults and children.

Martha Kendal lives in Los Gatos and has spoken at the Fellowship many times, on subjects ranging from Elizabeth Cady Stanton to Ben Franklin to the Erie Canal. We welcome her on this holiday weekend to enlighten and entertain us on her family's odyssey on wheels when they cycled the Camino de Santiago across Spain.
